Document Solutions, Inc. Attributes Success to Focus on Outstanding Customer Service

Document Solutions, Inc. (DSi), a leading litigation support services company serving the Southeastern and Midwestern U.S., has been named to the Inc. 500/5000 list of the fastest growing private companies in the country. In making the announcement of DSi's inclusion in the Inc. 500/5000, officials cited the firm's 87 percent growth rate over the last three years.

"We are humbled to be on this renowned list of great private companies," said Tom Turner, DSi president. "The great news is that our clients appreciate the results of our hard work as much, if not more, than do the editors of Inc. magazine. We are on track to double our growth rate this year over last, thanks to our success in entering new markets and increasing our client base which includes several Fortune 100 companies."

Kevin Tyner, DSi CFO and co-founder, said that the firm's nationally recognized performance comes from an unrelenting commitment to customer service.

"A survey by Law Technology News this summer confirmed our belief that quality customer service is the number one reason law firms and corporate counsel choose one legal technology firm over another. Outstanding customer service has been our top priority since the day we began," Tyner said.

According to Inc. magazine, companies are chosen for the list by comparing revenue growth from 2006 to 2009. Companies must be U.S.-based, privately held, independent, for-profit and not a subsidiary or division of another company. Revenues in 2006 must have been at least $80,000 and at least $2 million for 2009. The latest edition of the annual list was in Inc.'s September issue, released Aug. 24, 2010.

"We're grateful that we have been able to thrive during this rough economy and that Inc. has recognized that," said Turner. "It's an honor to be included in this very distinguished group."
